

Verification of English-Language Proficiency through English-Language Modules in the Undergraduate Degree Program

Name:

Date of birth:

Degree program you apply for:

Before submitting this form, you need to refer to the Academic and Examination Regulations \(FPSO\) of the degree program for which you are applying to determine if this method of verification is accepted. If so, ensure that you have obtained the necessary number of ECTS credits in English-language examination modules from the undergraduate (usually a Bachelor's) degree program to fulfill application requirements for your desired (Master's) degree program.

You need to list the modules you have successfully completed in which the language of instruction and examination was English and the semester in which each was completed.

It is imperative that the transcript of records clearly states English as the language of instruction for the listed examination modules.

If the transcript does not state the language of instruction, you need to obtain official confirmation of English as the language of instruction (with letterhead, stamp, and signature) from your undergraduate university or department and upload it together with this form as a combined (single) PDF file.

NB: For applicants who are currently enrolled in or have already completed a Bachelor's program at TUM:

You must have this completed form stamped and signed by the academic student advisor of your Bachelor's program before uploading it.
